 PWS&D Chandha Kumari is a 16-year-old girl living in a rural village in India. She's the eldest of five siblings and the financial strain weighs heavily on her family. Amid these daily struggles is the threat of child marriage, which remains a common practice in her village. Financial and social pressures led Chandha's parents to consider marrying her off despite her age. This all changed when her mother attended a community awareness session on child marriage hosted by PWS&D's local partner. Chandha's mother shared with her husband what she learned during the session. Armed with knowledge about the legal age for marriage and the detrimental effects of child marriage, they decided to prioritize Chandha's education and seek other financial resources to prevent her early marriage.

 Seeds of Resilience – Pakistan the fifth most populated country in the world is extremely vulnerable to climate change and food insecurity. The Global Climate Risk Index ranks Pakistan as one of the most-climate affected countries in the world. With an economy heavily reliant on agriculture (almost 20% of GDP), even minor climatic incidences can have dramatic effects of food security.

To help build seeds of resilience in marginalized communities, PWS&D's partner implemented a humanitarian assistance, early recovery and development (HERD) project in highly food insecure Sindh province. The project, which supported 23,319 people, provided emergency food assistance during the first stage of intervention. Further stages provided families with seeds and training on climate-smart agriculture. Additionally, 300 women artisans received training to expand their livelihood opportunities.

Watch the Seeds of Resilience video, which documents the changes in the community and then engage in discussion and dialogue using the provided discussion questions. <https://presbyterian.ca/pwsd/seeds-of-resilience>

 We pray for the people of Lebanon as they are under increased threat of violence and especially for the students, staff and faculty of the Near East School of Theology (NEST) in Beirut and the Middle East Council of Churches (MECC) that brings together churches in the East for a common Christian witness in a region where Christ was born, lived, died and resurrected. The Presbyterian Church in Canada joins in prayer for the people of the region as they face war, danger and uncertainty.

Stewardship Moment: God likes help when helping people.
